

JAYCEE AWARDS

JAYCEE SOUTH AFRICA will again this year honour four South Africans by presenting their "Four Young South Africans of the Year" award.

These awards are for meritorious achievement in individual fields of endeavour. The project was instituted in 1965 and since then, many South Africans have been recipients of this award.

The Jaycees are seeking nominations from the public for the 1978/79 Four Outstanding Young South Africans Award. Men and women of all races, aged 2 to 40, who are South African citizens may be nominated. At a banquet on September 19, in Cape Town, the winners will each receive a replica of a sculpture designed by the late Herman Wald who died nine years ago. The Award depicts the intertwined figures of a man and a woman 'reaching upwards towards greater achievement.' It is inscribed with the words "earth's greatest treasure lies in human personality."

Previous winners have included South Africa's Ambassador to London, Dr Dawie de Villiers, sportsmen Ali Bacher and Gary Player, writer William Rowland, businessmen Raymond Ackerman and Sam Zondi, educationalist Franklin Sonn, Dr. Jan Hupkes, Dr Sandra van der Merwe and Dr. Denis Worrall M.P. Further information and nomination forms may be obtained from Jaycee Sea Point, P.O. Box

EMBODIED IN THE AWARD to be presented to the 'Four Outstanding Young South Africans of the Year,' is the last line of the Jaycee creed, "Service to humanity is the best work of life." The late Herman Wald, who designed the award, captured the spirit of this striving for betterment.
